

GOOD HOME FOR COMPANIES

AURELIUS is one of the leading European investment groups. From its offices in Munich, London, Stockholm and Madrid, AURELIUS acquires participations with development potential. Once under the AURELIUS umbrella, the acquisitions are given a long-term strategic orientation and their potential developed.

Currently, the AURELIUS Group consists of 25 subsidiaries with locations in Europe, Asia, and the U.S.A. These include traditional brands, service companies as well as numerous industrial enterprises. Companies are acquired based on strict investment criteria without focusing on any particular industry.

For our portfolio companies in the UK we are looking for

INTERIM MANAGER (M/F)

Responsibilities

Directly after AURELIUS has acquired a new company, you will take over its general management on site. Your main task is – together with the established management – to work out and implement a comprehensive concept to increase the value of the company. You will be the contact person for customers and other interested parties (e.g. banks) as well as a leadership figure and role model for the employees. Your assignment is supposed to last a maximum of 18 to 24 months in a given company and in addition to your base compensation you will be given the opportunity to participate in “your” company and to benefit directly from the success of your work.

Qualifications required

- You are a well-experienced and pragmatic manager with at least five years of managerial responsibility in a medium-sized environment.
- In addition to a business, natural science or engineering degree you can handle basic sales and marketing, commercial and technical problems. Consultancy background is of advantage here.
- You have already succeeded in the reorganisation and restructuring of companies (mandatory for this task).
- You are self-confident and determined and you show the required “hands-on” mentality to restructure a medium-sized company of 200 to 1000 employees.
- Furthermore, you are characterized by cost awareness, an instinct for business and the ability to implement and communicate.
